

The project

The E(U) leaders project will contribute to the development of a reliable set of digital tools and approaches for e-leadership skills assessment, development, evaluation, and certification.

The project supports leaders in addressing the gaps, opportunities, and implications of managing virtual work-based environments and teams and fosters leaders' integration into the modern labor market through the assessment and development of the required e-leadership and high-tech leadership skills.

Project results

As part of the EU Leaders' implementation, 5 project results will be developed, these tools are the following:

1. Guidebook of inclusion of best practices on suitable digital working environments.
2. e-leadership Model adopted within TBO and NTBO.
3. e-leaders' High-tech Course.
4. e-learning platform for Leaders.
5. Certification framework for the e-leadership skills.

We look forward to sharing them with you!

3rd Project Result

The partnership is already working on the third project result, the e-leaders' High-tech Course.

The course aims to further enhance the skills / competences of entrepreneurs / employers / leaders / managers / VET trainers / mentors / educators according to their needs.

The training targets the e-leaders' personal development and will include a mentoring methodology for mentors.

The partnership is now gathering the essential information and material in order to create the content. The training modules of this course are the following:

- e-leadership styles, e-management strategies.
- e-ethics
- e-social skills and e-team building skills.
- information and data literacy.
- information security, GDPR.
- e-technology skills.
- evaluation and effective follow-up techniques.

Project's dissemination

The partnership is disseminating the project through their networks. It's worth saying that on March 29, the University of Aveiro presented the preliminary results of the project in a seminar at the Portuguese Military Academy on e-leadership. On the occasion, the best practices results and the competencies framework in e-leadership were presented, as well as the two e-books published under the scope of the project.
